Collections are the most valuable assets of the Museum and are protected, kept unencumbered, cared for and preserved. The collections, which were acquired primarily through donation, are not recognized or capitalized as assets in the statement of financial position. Collection items purchased during the year are recorded as decreases in net assets without donor restriction in the year in which the items are acquired, or as decreases in net assets with donor restriction if the assets used to purchase the items are restricted by donors. We seek, through our programs and exhibitions, to develop an understanding of the historical, cultural and environmental significance of the Delaware River and its estuaries.

The Museum retains a nationally recognized collection of artifacts and documents chronicling the history of the communities along the Delaware River. Of particular note are the holdings related to the shipbuilding in Philadelphia. Chester, Camden and Gloucester as well as personal papers of such noted figures as Commodore Barry, father of the United States Navy. In addition, the museum also exhibits the historic Cruiser Olympiathe last remaining 19th century ironclad afloat in the world and the World War 2 submarine Becuna. These collections are used for both research and as part of exhibitions that showcase the people, history and environment of the region.

The Museum is home to one of the largest maritime art and artifact collections in North America, documenting the local and regional history of the Ports of Philadelphia, and two National Historic Landmark ships, Cruiser Olympia, Admiral Dewey's flagship at the Battle of Manila Bay, and World War II Submarine Becuna. The Museum is the premier, year-round, family-friendly destination that has become a key component of Philadelphia's waterfront renaissance on Penn's Landing.
